VARIOUS MATTERS

Labor day ends the summer holidays.

Late stayers at the beaches and the evening raw and chilly.

Sunday's rain greatly benefited peach orchards hereabouts.

The holiday rush began early with the restaurants and hotels.

Farmers are getting tired of carting water for their stock to drink.

Booklets for fall excursions to the mountains and to southern battle fields are reaching town.

Monday was anniversary day of the battle of Groton Heights and the burning of New London.

Yardstick souvenirs and squeaking balloons were numerous Monday evening when the crowds returned from the fair grounds.

The Swedish Epworth league has been holding a convention in the Harvard Swedish Methodist church of all New England states, ending Monday.

St. Patrick's parochial school opens this (Tuesday) morning, following a mass at 8 o'clock, at which the pupils will assist.

Delegates from eastern Connecticut are attending the fifth triennial congress of the general society of Mayflower descendants, which opened at Plymouth Sunday.

Constable Charles H. Card of Groton and Sheriff Manuel J. Martin took Saturday night, December 1, when she will replace the New Shoreham.

The steamer New Shoreham made her last trip from Block Island to Stonington Monday afternoon. The steamer has carried a good passenger list on all her trips this summer.

In Connecticut last month, four persons ended their lives by shooting two by carbolic acid, two by hanging and asphyxiation, and one each by the knife and by poison other than carbolic acid.

Rosie Curran, the infant daughter of Samuel Curran of New London, died early Sunday morning in the Memorial hospital. Burial was in the Hebrew cemetery in Waterford Sunday afternoon.

The state executive committee of the Zionist societies of Connecticut held a meeting Sunday at the Hebrew school in New Britain and planned to start schools in all the larger cities of the state.

Coincident with the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of the Congregational church in that village, it is probable that Mansfield Center will have a Home week celebration in October, 1910.

By invitation of the circles of The King's Daughters and Sons of the New Haven city section, a large musical convention will be held in New Haven, October 13 and 14, in Plymouth church.

The blue and white flag of Portugal fluttered in the breeze throughout Newport Sunday, at the annual outing of the New England branches of the Portuguese Fraternity of the United States. Union lodge of New London was represented at the convention.

The Connecticut military archives in the state library have been recently enriched by the addition of sixteen manuscript volumes and an index covering the period from 1757 to 1788, so that the military records of the state are practically complete from 1757 to 1788.

The body of Miss Delight Prosser, who died last week at her home in New York, was brought to New London on Saturday afternoon. She was interred in the cemetery in Waterford Sunday morning.

Dr. Philip R. Hadley of the Rhode Island experiment station has declared that the prevalence of the blackhead disease among turkeys, which is decimating the flocks, is due largely to the English sparrows. These insect-eating feathered pests, he says, have the disease, and play an important part in its transmission from one poultry farm to another.

It will be suggested by Census Director Durand to the farmers that the work of securing accurate returns at the coming census of agriculture, which will be taken April 15, 1910, at the same time that the census of population will be greatly facilitated if the farmers will keep or provide some sort of written record of their farm operations during the year 1909.

DR. P. J. CASSIDY WON.

Took President's Cup at Labor Day Golf Tourney.

A Labor day golf tournament with handicap medals play for the president's cup was held Monday on the links at the Norwich club, with four-teen entries, resulting in a good series of games for the day. Dr. P. J. Cassidy, handicapping in a card of 117, took the cup. He had previously won the cup in 1908, and he has only been playing on these links for three or four weeks. The cup was formerly held by John D. Moulton.

Runaway Returning from Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. George McNamara, the former a blacksmith in New London, were thrown out Monday evening when their team ran away on West Main street returning from the fair grounds. Their injuries were severe bruises. Their horse, a gray one, was turned into Pfeffer's blacksmith yard and stopped. He had demolished the buggy in the run and was dragging it up down. Mr. and Mrs. McNamara were picked up by one of Elmer Plerson's men and brought to the city, later returning to their home in New London.

WEDDING.

Kowal-Potari.

Felix Kowal and Katherine Potari, both residents of Yantic street, were married in St. Joseph's church Monday morning by Rev. J. J. Ambot. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock and was attended by many friends of the bride and groom. A reception was later held at the Falls.
